PRESS RELEASE

Varco Pruden among 2015 Best Places to Work in Memphis, TN

MEMPHIS, TN, November 16, 2015 – Varco Pruden Buildings is pleased to announce that their national headquarters in Memphis, Tenn. was named one of the 2015 Best Places to Work by the Memphis Business Journal. The Best Places to Work is a competition of the top workplaces in the Memphis metro area. Selection is determined solely on employee feedback.

Memphis Business Journal partners with national research firm Quantum Workplace to determine Memphis' Best Places to Work. All nominated companies participated in an anonymous employee engagement survey coordinated and conducted by Quantum Workplace. The survey criteria included topics on salary, benefits, employee engagement, and workplace environment. The average scores of employee questionnaires determine the Best Places to Work rankings.

As part of this year's nomination process and employee engagement surveys, Varco Pruden Buildings was named a finalist in the category for mid-size companies (50-99 employees).

Previously, Varco Pruden was recognized by the Memphis Business Journal as one of the Mid-South's Healthiest Employers for two consecutive years.
